Children Born of War – past, present and future project*

- * CBOW is a H2020 Marie Curie Innovative Training Network (ITN) project (2015–2018)
- * 15 early stage researchers, 11 organizations, 12 partner organizations
- * 4 work packages
- * www.CHIBOW.org
- * Understanding of the challenges of CBOW in volatile societies will inform the normative debates and, ultimately, policies on the reintegration of CBOW into post-conflict societies

Knut Weise, Breda, Netherlands

*This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation program under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie grant agreement No 642571

Who are CBOW?

- * CBOW definition: a child born to a local mother and a father of a different national military force
- * In Western Europe, studies show CBOW lives have been negatively impacted
- * Little is known of CBOW in the post-communist space

 - * Traditional sources w/
 - * Semi-structured open-ended biographical interviews

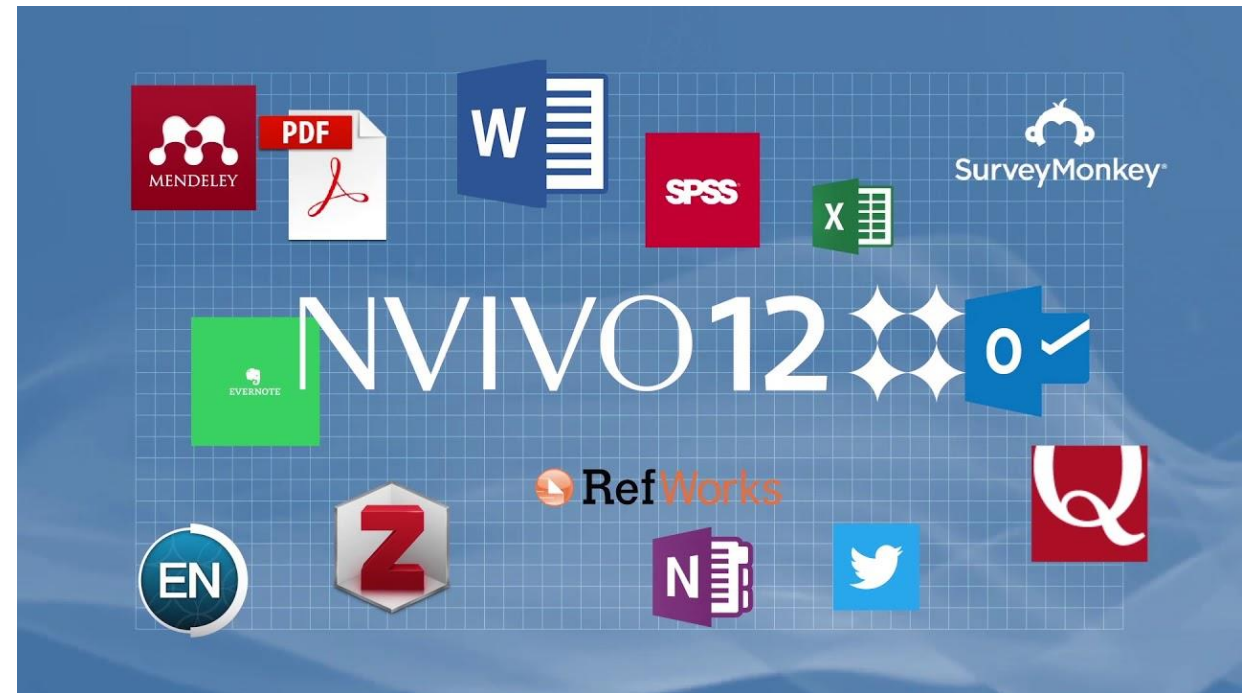

Participants

- * 39 interviews total
- * 24 w/ 'Third Reich' CBOW
- * 15 w/ USSR CBOW
- * 33 w/ CBOW
- * 6 w/ direct relatives

NVIVO

- * Qualitative data analysis software
- * Starter, Pro & Plus
- * Audio, video, photo, word, PDF, excel, text, websites, social media and more
- * One project w/ multiple researchers
- * Project logs, memos, mind maps and more

NVIVO Coding

- * Content analysis-no scissors or paper needed
- * Coding creates nodes
- * Nodes trees = parent and children nodes
- * Auto-coding available
- * Coding stripes

own home
alone / lonely

When you move into your own home, you're alone. There is no bustle of people around the house. I miss having someone to chat to when I get home. I put the TV or some music so there's some background noise. the silence makes me feel so alone. Sometimes I will be sat watching trash TV and thinking I should be out doing something rather than watching this rubbish. I read a lot but sometimes I am too tired and just want to veg out. But it's been good to move out of mum and dads as it's not healthy to rely on them as they won't last forever. I become independent and made my own decisions. It's good they still there when I need the distance. It's good to have some distance as when I was at home I was arguing a lot with my dad and that was made me decide it was time to go.

un tad viņa rīcās viņa bija redzēns un iemūža to varēja un stājina, un tad vecmamma atzina, mums kaimiņi bija un tā siena bija diezgna plāna, lai gan tā kaimiņiene visiem stāstīja, ka ir kurla, bet viņa dzirdēja ļoti labi. Tad tikai vecmamma kušināja – tu nerunā, tu nerunā, tu redzi, kur tu tiksi.

Jo tu redzi, kad runā par tām izsūtīšanām, tad es neko nezināju. Mēs bijām vienkārša strādnieku ģimene, par to neviens neko nerunāja, un es arī tikai tajos gadījumos, kad vecāamma kušināja vectēvu, tad es sapratu, ka kaut kādas bažas ir, bet tā. Nu, 1949. gadā man bija seši gadi. Es neko nezināju par to, pilnīgi neko.

Nu jā, viņš beidza politehnisko, bet pēc tam sāka strādāt televīzijā par ārzemju kaut kādu, nu, ārzemju ziņas vai raidījumi. Nu, skaidrs, ka viņam bija jābūt lojālam pret varu. Tā kā tā, jā.

Es vēl tolaik biju tehnikumā, kad Priedi atlaida, jā. Priedi atlaida, jo viņa kurss, es laikam biju pirmajā kursā, to žetonu es vēl redzēju, viņa kurss uz izlaidumu bija sagatavojuši nozīmītes, kur starp ozola lapām bija Latvijas karoga krāsas, nu, skadāls. Baigais skandāls. Nāca kaut kādi ierēdņi, pārbaudīja to visu un tā, jā. Nu, Priedi pēc tam atlaida. Viņš strādāja par pasniedzēju tur tajā Celtniecības tehnikumā. To es atceros, jā. Ne jau tas, ka viņš to sakcionēja, droši vien, ka viņš nemaz nezināja, bet nu. Vidusskolnieki beidza, tas jau bija pēc vidusskolas, viņi tādas nozīmītes uztaisīja. Tas ir tā interesanti, jā.
